

This advanced immune support stack has been carefully formulated by Doctors to support and modulate a healthy immune response.

The stack combines powerful natural antioxidants like acerola, elderberry and blackcurrant along with antioxidant vitamins such as vitamin C and E.

The addition of medicinal mushrooms, zinc, vitamin D and botanical extracts combine to boost a healthy immune response and balance.

Your supplements are best taken with food (to help with absorption), but it's not essential

Don't leave it too late in the day. Some ingredients increase energy and alertness

Night supplements ideally should be taken one hour before bedtime ZZZZ

If sachets are marked 'lunch and snack' you should take them together. They do more for you this way
